

B. ASSOCIATION AT HARNED.

Grand Meeting for Baptist Folks Last Week—Miss Ella Hensley Assists in Organizing A Union.

THREE HUNDRED ATTEND.

A News representative in speaking to the Rev. L. S. Sanders, a traveling officer of the Baptist Orphan Home, about the annual meeting of the Breckinridge Baptist Association at Harned, he said, "We had most inspiring services both days."

The Association met there August 20 and 27 and the Rev. Sanders gave the following notes.

Rev. Compton re-elected Moderator and Mr. Herndon, of Irvington, elected clerk.

The opening address was delivered by the Rev. Cox, of Philpot, and sermons were preached by Rev. J. J. Willet, of Ekron, and Rev. Everett English, of Hardinsburg. Rev. James Lewis, of Cloverport; W. D. Powell, J. D. Madison, of Owensboro; and A. Johnson, of Louisville, were among the interested workers present.

$300 was pledged for church building fund and the Association made an earnest plea for $1000 for missions to be raised during the coming year.

Thursday afternoon the women held a camp meeting and organized a Woman's Missionary Union. Mrs. Robert J. Kirk, of Cloverport, and Miss Ella Hensley, of Hardinsburg, were there.

Rev. Sanders said, "The Harned folks treated us fine to chicken, pie and cake, and made us feel it was good to be with them."

A Sure-enough Knocker.

J. C. Goodwin, of Reidville, N. C., says: "Bucklin's Arnica Salve is a sure-enough knocker for ulcers. A bad one came on my leg last summer, but that wonderful salve knocked it out in a few hours. I never saw a scar remain." Guaranteed for piles, sores, burns, etc. 25c. at Severs drug store.

Prohibit Them.

The citizens of Cloverport said by their vote last Saturday that whiskey cannot be sold legally there. The majority against the proposition was 80. They'll keep on coming to Cannelton after jugs and bottles full of the stuff. Some of them will have it as long as it is made—Cannelton Telephone.

A Burglar in Town

His name is "Bad cough". He doesn't care for gold or silver but he will steal your health away. If he appears in your house arrest him at once with Ballard's Kidney and Bladder Pills. It may mean consumption if you don't. A cure for all coughs, colds and chest troubles. Price 25c, 50c, and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by A. R. Fisher.

THE VOODOO IN HAITI.

Human Sacrifice to the God of the Serpent.

There is ample proof that human beings have been offered as sacrifices to the god of the serpent in Haiti. A French archbishop of the island described a visit made by one of the priests to a voodoo assembly. The man had disguised himself as a negro, and he was thus able to mingle undetected with the crowd in the obscurity outside the sacred circle. After the white cock and white goat had been slain and offered up and their blood had been sprinkled on the company, a young negro came forward and prostrated himself before the priestess. Then, still kneeling, he made his prayer.

"O mamam, I have a favor to ask of thee."

"What is it, my son?" said the priestess encouragingly.

"Will thou not let me, to complete the sacrifice, the goat without horns?"

The priestess gave a sign of assent. The crowd roundabout separated, and there was revealed a child sitting with its feet bound. The French priest rushed away in search of assistance in reverting the unholy rite, but the voodooists on who were called were strangely stoical. When finally, on the day following, they arrived at the place of assembly, they found the gruesome remains of a sacrifice and a feast, among them the boiled skull of the child—Marvin Dana in Metropolitan Magazine.

Don't Be Discouraged.

Beginning a thing is easy. It's the sticking to it that is difficult. The test of character is the ability to go on and finish. It is a rare virtue and an exceedingly valuable one, for, whatever you boldly start to do, there will surely come a time of discouragement, when you doubt if, after all, it is worth while. Look out for that! It will come. It is there that the danger lies. It doesn't matter what your work is—earning a living or taking a home or going to the moon. The discouragement is bound to come. Don't come to it. Be prepared for it and make up your mind to keep on just the same.

A Sure Thing.

Say: "Father send anything about you being too young?" He—Well, yes; but he said I'm pretty rapidly to get you married and I found I had to pay your bills—Laurie H. H.

A happiness that is quite undisturbed becomes treasured; we must have ups and downs—Mollie.

How a Young Girl's Hair Should Be Arranged.

THE EFFECT MUST BE SIMPLE

Anything the Least Bit Artificial Is Inartistic and Incongruous—Ribbons Adorned Exuberantly Suited to the Fresh Young Faces They Surround.

When a young girl reaches that milestone in her career which is marked by the lengthening of her locks and the turning up of her braids, she is as deeply concerned about the fashion of tying her hair as any debutante is over the question of puffs or no puffs. Candidly, the subject of hairdressing means more to the girl who wears her hair up for the first time than it does to her older sister. She has nothing to guide her in the way of former experience, and she does not always get that sympathetic

How To Get Strong.

P. J. Daly, of 1247 W. Congress St., Chicago, tells of a way to become strong. He says: "My mother, who is old and has very feeble, is deriving so much benefit from Electric Bitters that I feel it my duty to tell those who need a tonic and strengthening medicine about it. In my mother's case a marked gain in flesh has resulted, insomnia has been overcome, and she is steadily growing stronger." Electric Bitters quickly remedy stomach, liver and kidney complaints. Sold under guarantee at Severs drug store, 50c.

Handsome Improvements

In the store of P. Fraze, some very handsome improvements have recently been installed by Mr. Fred Fraze. Modern wardrobes for men's clothing are among the new furnishings and elegant lights are being placed all over the building. These new additions do not only add to the convenience of the firm, but they are very attractive.

Correction

It was omitted in last week's News that one of the boxes of cigars given in the foot race contest at the Massiac barbecue, was given by Miss Lillian Sippel.

To Be Happy

You must have good health. You can't have good health if your liver is not doing its duty—slow but sure poisoning is going on all the time under such circumstances. Ballard's Kidney makes a perfectly healthy liver—keeps the stomach and bowels right and acts as a tonic for the entire system. Sold by A. R. Fisher.

SEA BATHING.

The Effects of Salt Air and Water on the Human Body.

There is a reason why parents have in all times and in all ages endeavored to give their children the benefit of sea air and sea bathing. An Italian physician, Geroni, tells about it.

It is agreed, he says, that all living organisms began their first existence in salt water and that as a result the human body (and indeed every animal body) is largely made up of salt. If you taste your blood or your tears, which are the extract of blood, you will find that both are quite salty in flavor. More than this, however, every living being possesses within his body, in the cellular stage, all those strange marine organisms which we study so curiously in museums. And, says Geroni, that the amount of sea water contained in every body is equal to one-third of that body's weight. It is clear, then, that the human body is really the main principle of life, since it is the first condition of existence which the living organisms knew. It is therefore always good for the body, whether it be enjoyed at the seaside or brought in bottles from the sea. In particular, it is very valuable in the case of weakling children, and there is really the main principle of life, since it is the first condition of existence which the living organisms knew. It is therefore always good for the body, whether it be enjoyed at the seaside or brought in bottles from the sea. In particular, it is very valuable in the case of weakling children, and there is really the main principle of life, since it is the first condition of existence which the living organisms knew. #### AS TO THE SALE OF INTOXICATING LIQUORS.

§ 2557a. Intoxicating beverage—Penalty for selling—What constitutes sale. It shall be unlawful for any one to sell, barter or loan, directly or indirectly, any beverage, liquid mixture or decoction of any kind which produces or causes intoxication in any county, city, town, district or precinct, in which the sale, barter, or loan of spirituous, vinous and malt liquors is or shall be prohibited in accordance with the local option law. Any person who shall sell, barter or loan, directly or indirectly any such beverage, liquid mixture or decoction in any such county, city, town, district or precinct shall, upon conviction, be fined the sum of not less than twenty nor more than one hundred dollars for each offense; and any sale, barter or loan of any article, with the agreement, expressed or implied that the right or title to or possession of any such beverage, liquid mixture or decoction shall also pass, shall be considered a sale, barter or loan within the terms of this act.

If Col. Bryan could run as well in November as he does in August and September, he would surely win out.

Our new story. Are you reading it? If not go right after it. It is good, it is interesting from start to finish. Get busy.

There is not a voter but what knows right now how he will vote in November. And all the campaign speeches and campaign literature will not change him.

Col. Eli Dean, over on the "Branch," says he has corn so tall that he will have to use a ladder to gather it. His is only a fair sample of many crops on the "Branch."

We extend our heartiest congratulations to our beloved friends and honored citizens, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Keith, who celebrated their golden anniversary of their wedding Monday.

If your potatoes are rotting, don't be in a hurry to dig them. The Farm Journal says let them stay in the ground till they get through rotting. The cold days will usually put an end to the rot.

There ought to be more men like Sam Dowell, of Irvington, in this county. He made many a little tot happy last week and some big ones too. We congratulate you Mr. Samuel on your good work.

There are some blind tigers in this town, so they say. If there are we want the tigers who have eyes to open them and read some law covering that traffic published at the head of this column. It is good reading for all of us.

What are you doing about prosperity? Are you doing something yourself to bring it back, or are you just watching to "catch it when it comes round again?" The thing to do is to get busy with your hands and hold your tongues.

Don't miss John Ditto's dream in this issue. To read it, makes one feel he has had a real fox hunt over the hills in old Meade. John has some rare experiences with the dogs and horse, and he knows well how to tell the story of them.

The fall season is now upon us. Let's all get busy doing something. If it's only cutting weeds, it will help. If one man goes to cutting his neighbor will generally follow suit. It is just as necessary to cut the weeds at the right time as it is the corn or the wheat.

Our subscription list was never more active. Never a week passes but what we add from twenty to twenty-five new names—all cash in advance. People like a paper with backbone and the courage of its convictions. They like a paper that does what it says it will do.

One hundred dollar colts, eighty-five dollar colts and sixty-five dollar colts is another sign of prosperity with a big P. We've got 'em right here in our county, and we are going to have more of them too. Watch our colts grow and watch them move, out at the County Fair today and tomorrow.

We have always said that Cloverport was an ideal summer resort. Now we have proof of it. Read what Dr. Ritter says in his letter published in this issue. For a real, genuine, healthful, restful, up-building of the body and mind, spend your summers in this beautiful old town on the banks of the Ohio.

In Des Moines Mr. Bryan talked free trade, in Indianapolis sailed into corporations, and in Topeka proclaimed the necessity of the government guarantee of bank deposits. Mr. Bryan is geographically adjustable at a moment's notice, and never dismayed when one of his paramount issues blow up.—(Globe-Democrat.

With a corn crop this year of 2,707,000,000 bushels against 2,592,000,000 bushels in 1907, and a wheat crop of 675,000,000 bushels, a gain of 44,000,000 bushels over last year, bringing the farmers of the country $1,920,000,000 against $1,336,000,000 last year, spells prosperity in big letters. This means more business for the railroads and the manufacturers, more work for the working man at higher

To the Readers of This Paper.

We have contracted with this newspaper for many columns of advertising space to tell and furnish you each week, black on white, many good reasons why it will pay you to deal with us. We are the oldest department store in Louisville. Having been in business for 63 years. We buy for cash and in large quantities, which enables us to buy cheaper, consequently we can sell cheaper. Particularly have our buyers closed many advantageous deals this year on account of trade conditions. We will tell you about these transactions in our future announcements—watch for them.

To deal here does not necessarily mean you must do your shopping in person, although if you do come here, you will save more than enough on your purchase to pay your traveling expenses. We have however, a large mail order department, with a corps of experienced mail order clerks, who fill mail orders to the same satisfaction to the purchasers as if they bought the goods in person.

THE KENTUCKY STATE FAIR, which is to be held in our city September 14th to 19th, is going to be a great fair; everybody will come to Louisville to see it. You do not want to miss it. We take this means of inviting you to both the State Fair and to our big store. We will see that your stay with us will be pleasant and floor attendants will take pleasure in having you shown through our entire establishment.

wages, and an increased activity in all lines. Prosperity is right here; are you ready for it?

There is one thing the farmers of this county are not going to do, with all of their prosperity and good crops, throw their good hard dollars into a campaign fund. Nobody but the politician will blame them either. They know how to vote, and for whom to vote, when the time comes. It won't require any boodle to get them out either.

There are many men, says the Farm Journal, who do not place a true valuation upon their wives until they have lost them, and are obliged to hire only moderately interested housekeepers to whom they must pay real wages. Isn't this true? Better tip the wife instead of the waiter. Let gratitude and appreciation accompany the coin too. It pays.

More law-abiding, law-respecting men in this town should stand by Bro. Currie in his struggle for law and order. It takes a man with courage and back bone to do and preach for the up-holding of the law and the peace and order in a community. Some people say it is none of his business, but it is. It is every good citizens business whether preacher or layman, to see that the law is up-held.

The Nashville Christian Advocate in an editorial has this to say regarding Mr. Taft's religious views. We believe with the Advocate that it is politics, pure and simple, and mighty cheap politics at that. Hear the Advocate: "The editor of the Christian Advocate begs leave to say, in answer to multiplying inquiries, that he considers the effort to make out that Mr. Taft is not a Christian because he is a Unitarian very cheap politics. The Unitarian doctrine is not a very vital one to propagate among sinners, but that a man may hold it personally and at the same time be a Christian of a high type has been demonstrated over and over again. We had not supposed that anybody would even raise a question on such a point. Whether or not Mr. Taft is a Christian does not turn upon whether he is a Unitarian, but upon whether he is a Christian. We have seen no reason to doubt that he is. We trust that no church people, however orthodox, will be drawn into a propaganda which is politics, pure and simple, and which could only result, if taken up by them, in injury to the cause of religion."

"Our County Fair," that is just what it is. That is the broad way to put it. It is no one man's fair or set of men. It is for the whole people, from every section, from every hamlet and from every home word should go out, "Our County Fair" is on today, and it is my duty as a citizen of the good old county of Breckenridge to lend my presence to its success. A good county fair is an uplift to any county. It broadens our views; it gets us in touch with better things and better modes of doing things. It whets our ambition, stimulates our efforts for better work; makes us happier, gets us out of ruts and improves conditions in every way. Go to the Fair one day, at least, and have an outing and a good time. Go and shake hands with your neighbor, see the fine horses, fine cattle, fine hogs, fine chickens, and then go home with the determination—if you haven't any of these fine things—to have some for the next fair. All these add to our wealth, our standing and to our reputation for a great farming and stock raising people. There is not a bit of reason why we shouldn't rank with any county in the State when it comes to raising stock. We have the land, the water and the soil. All we have to do is to get right down to good hard business farming. Get rid of the scrubs and instead of two scrub horses, cows or hogs, get a good one of each and start in new. You get advanced ideas about all these at a good fair. Ours will be a grand one, you bet, and you will miss something if you are not there.

Resolutions.

Cloverport Lodge No 833, F. & A. M. Cloverport, Ky., Aug. 3rd, 1908.

Whereas, It has pleased the Grand Master of the Universe to remove from our midst, on the 31st. day of July, our beloved brother, John David Gregory;

Resolved, That while we bow in humble submission to the Divine Will, we sincerely realize that in his death Masonry has lost a true and faithful member, his family a devoted husband and father, and the community an honorable and upright citizen.

Resolved, That we extend our utmost sympathy to the bereaved family in their affliction, and commend them into the hands of the Almighty Creator of the Universe, who has done all things well.

Resolved, That as a memorial to our departed brother, these resolutions be made a part of the records of the Lodge, a copy be sent to the Masonic Home Journal and the Breckenridge News for publication. And the members of the Lodge wear the badge of mourning for a period of thirty days.

Gallons of Whiskey Awaiting Destruction.

The enforcement of the prohibition law in Georgia and the raiding of illicit stills has resulted in the accumulation of 3,000 gallons of whiskey in the basement of the Federal building at Atlanta. Revenue officers have confiscated this quantity of liquor, and are awaiting final instruction as to its disposal.

Before the state prohibition law went into effect, it was the policy of the government to sell at auction liquors confiscated by revenue officers. Since the enactment of the prohibitory law, such a disposal becomes impossible, and the prohibitionists favor that this liquor will be emptied into the Atlanta sewers.

To Keep Salt Dry.

To prevent salt in saltcellars from becoming damp and lumpy, when filling them put in ten to twelve pieces of rice, says Woman's Home Companion for September. "This will not come through the holes in the cover of the saltcellars, but will break the lumps of salt and gather the moisture, thus the salt is always dry and fine."

A Fox Hunt Dream

By John T. Ditto

Not long since at my present home in Decatur, Ill., a beautiful moonlight night my mind wandered back to the days of my life on the farm in Kentucky where my pleasure was with dogs and horse. I suppose my mind did not clear up on the subject before retiring for I had a dream that night that was a hair raiser and a mind splitter. My dream was about a fox hunt. As I recall it very vividly there came a fine, soft, balmy morning and all conditions seemed to be right for a little run. In fact, they were so good I could not resist the temptation, although I had plenty of farm work that demanded my attention.

However, I started my farm hands out on enough outlaid jobs to keep them employed for two days or more. These plans are necessary, for when you start out on a fox hunt there is no telling when you will get in. If there is anything doing in the woods with good company and stayers. I did not have to blow the horn for old Wallace, Sam Brown and one or two others, who were watching my movements, because they knew as well as I did it was the right kind of a morning for such work.

No wife those days to get a permit from, so I strolled one of my favorites and out we struck for the old hunting grounds back of McGehee's, Ditto's and McAuliff's. Just after I had crossed the railroad, back of McGehee's upon the ridge, I noticed my old, reliable Wallace, starting far on ahead with tail and head back up, sniffing the air and brushes every step. I saw his tail begin to twitch, his head lift a little higher and off to the left he went! It was not long before he gave a cry, the kind that rings certainty of a chase that you can bet will soon be on, and on right. Sam Brown was on his heels at the second mouth and the others soon joined in and off they went towards McAuliff's old field and I followed at break neck speed, to get a favorite point—all of the sweetest.

When I reached the advantage point up the road, my friend, the Shrewsbury boy, and my old Sally and DuRelle and a couple of pups that were just beginning to run well, appeared upon the scene. Before Shrewsbury reached me Sally and DuRelle learned that there was something going on and in a twinkling of an eye, they were at the heels of my dogs. They took a round to the west back of Brandenburg, and then turned in our course again. About the time they got near us up the road, my old friend, Gus W. Richardson, (known as our red fox politician, always ready to run for any office open to him) appeared upon the scene. He would put up the money for him and he would generally won't) made his appearance. Gus knew it was a glorious morning and he had come down with a few of his real live and "Yellow" good ones. Before the greeting of "how do you do" could pass, old Lalla, Blue Dick, little ring neck had "lined in" and the sticks began to crack. Hair raising time was then sure on over about ten or twelve true bucks as well followed the fox, were on the business. They took a course toward Doe Run creek, went up for a mile and then pulled toward us again. We rode the ridges and never lost hearing any time. By the time they had made this round they were all settled down to business, running in a pack that could be covered with a blanket and not a bobble nor a hitch was there! They ran at this gate three hours then went to cover out back of my father's old place. "Come boys lets go for a bite to eat" and with this invitation my dream vanished.

BEARD BROTHERS COLT SHOW.

Hardinsburg, Ky., Aug. 30.—(Special.)—Beard Bros. Colt Shows held here Saturday afternoon were well attended with much interest in the get of their fine breeding stock. Altogether, it was a very fine line of colts shown.

Of the ten Sporting Boy's string shown, the first prize went to Moses Payne's colt, of Harrod, the second, to W. R. Moorman & Sons, of Glendane, and the third to Frank Black, of Custer.

Three Clydesdale colts were shown, the premium going to C. L. Beard and E. W. Tucker.

Seven mule colts contended for the premiums. Percy Beard's got first. The second premium was divided between the colts exhibited by John Pile, of Mook, and John P. Tucker, of Harrod.

Mr. Payne sold his colt for $100. Moorman & Son refused $100 for theirs. Mr. Black sold his for $85.

Beard Bros. are every year adding to their reputation as breeders of the finest stock and their patronage is steadily growing.

Politics or Indifference Cause Lack of Prohibition Law Enforcement.

Internal Revenue Collector J. O. Thompson, of Alabama, having made a very careful study of the temperance situation in that state, reports that the lack of enforcement of prohibitory law is due to officers being influenced by politics or to their absolute indifference to the enforcing of the law. It is recommended that an independent constabulary, whose sole duty shall be to ferret out evidence and prosecute violations of temperance laws, shall be appointed and held strictly responsible for this service.

It is absurd to plead that the state has not sufficient officers to enforce the law. The difficulty in law enforcement is thoroughly attributed to the reasons given above. Mr. Thompson states that during six years, eight collectors in Alabama have destroyed between 700 and 800 illicit distilleries. He further states there are sixty-seven sheriffs in the state and probably about two hundred deputies, and if they were all made to enforce the law. It would be practically impossible for blind tigers to exist.

The attitude of Collector Thompson in criticizing the method of law enforcement by the sheriffs and deputies has commenced to bring these officers into the public light, and they are beginning to act more forcibly against the illicit liquor sellers.

CANOING AS A TONIC

There are few aquatic sports which women have ventured to enjoy, but of these their is none more popular and genuinely beneficial than canoeing.

Not only as a form of recreation and an aquatic pursuit, but as an effective exercise for the development of the muscles of the arms, back, chest, and shoulders, canoeing is recommended. For square shoulders it is not nearly as good as rowing, but the frail little craft needs a cool head and a steady hand to keep it from reeling over, and in that it has an advantage over rowing. Certainly it is a more delightful and less laborious sport than rowing, and may be safe to have the additional incentive to the venturesome spirit in the possibility of danger from an upset.

The best season of the year for cruising is September. Even drifting along with a moving stream, the canoe demands guidance that may require considerable physical exertion and an activity which the hot summer days of August or July would not permit. There are few days of September when the canoeist could not be out upon the stream at mid-day and not fear the ill effects of excessive heat.

U.S. DISPENSARY

Describes the Principal Ingredients of Catarrh in the Pelvic Organs.

Are we claiming too much for Farnum when we claim it to be an effective remedy for chronic catarrh? Have we abundant proof that Farnum is in reality such a catarrh remedy? Let us see what the United States Dispensary says of the principal ingredients of Farnum.

Take, for instance, the ingredient hyacinth seed, a golden seal. The United States Dispensary says of this herbal remedy, that it is largely employed in the treatment of depraved mucous membranes, chronic rhinitis (nasal catarrh), chronic dyspepsia (catarrh of the stomach), chronic intestinal catarrh, catarrhal jaundice (catarrh of the liver), and in diseased mucous membranes of the pelvic organs. It is also recommended for the treatment of various forms of disease peculiar to women.

Another ingredient of Farnum, oxydized iron, is classed in the United States Dispensary as a tonic. So also is emulsified cod liver oil, which is a tonic for the mucous membranes.

Cedron seeds are another ingredient of Farnum, an excellent drug that has been very largely overlooked by the medical profession for the past fifty years. The seeds are to be found in very few drug stores. The United States Dispensary says of the action of cedron that it is used as a bitter tonic and in the treatment of dysentery, and in intestinal disease as a substitute for quinine.

Oil of copaiba, another ingredient of Farnum, is classed by the United States Dispensary as a mild stimulant and diuretic. Based on the stomach and intestinal tract. It acts as a stimulant on the genito-urinary membranes. Useful in chronic cystitis, chronic dysentery and diarrhoea, and some chronic diseases of the liver and kidneys.

Send us for a free book of testimonials of what the people think of Farnum as a catarrh remedy. The best evidence is the testimony of those who have tried it.

A BEAUTIFUL TRIBUTE TO MRS. FRANCES RHODES

On the eve of Aug. 18 1908, near the Angelus Hour, our mother and friend, Mrs. Frances M. Rhodes, breathed her last.

She was the daughter of the hands of her Judge and Saviour, "Aunt Fannie," as she was usually called, was one of the oldest ladies in our neighborhood, having reached the advanced age of 81 years, 10 months and 20 days. She was the daughter of James Hackley and Mary Willis Hackley, of Grayson county, Ky., but she was left an orphan at the tender age of six weeks, and reared by two kind old people, Mr. and Mrs. James Bartle, of Grayson county.

On Oct. 20 1844, she was married to Francis Rhodes, by Rev. Fr. DeQuacher, and came to this county and settled in the Forks of Rough two miles west of Middlesboro, where they lived until the time of their death. She was the mother of eight children and had fifty-five grandchildren and eighteen great grandchildren. She was a loyal Christian mother in every particular. She lived in the sanctuaries of her home where by the power of her example and entreaties she influenced her children in the way they should go. No one ever came beneath her roof that did not leave without gratitude for her kindness. The clergy, the aged, the sick, the orphans and even the slaves in early days all felt the heavenly dew of her kindness when near her home.

Her funeral took place from St. Anthony's church, Long Lick, Aug. 20 amid a large assembly of relatives and friends. Rev. John Francis Kneu officiating.

May her soul rest in peace.
